

General Leslie "Dick" Groves and the Fake Moon Landings!!

This exposé is going to the MOON!!

General Groves (1896-1970).

General Groves was born in upstate New York on August 17, 1896. His father was a "Presbyterian" minister and Army chaplain. Like "Baptist" Rockefeller he had the perfect disguise.

The ONLY verse in the Bible that Groves knew was Matthew 6:3: "But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth."

General Groves was not interested in giving money to the poor . . . in secret . . . or in public!! He applied that verse to the making of the ATOMIC BOMB.

The entire Manhattan Project was conducted with the utmost secrecy. Even the people working in the factories that produced the uranium and plutonium were kept in the dark. This secrecy would be a dress rehearsal for another multi-billion dollar Pentagon project: man on the moon!!

President Truman did not know of the bomb's existence until after he was sworn in as President on April 12, 1945.

General Groves built the Pentagon!!

The Pentagon in Wash. DeCeit was built by General Groves.

Colonel Groves began building the Pentagon on Sept 11, 1941, and the massive fortress was completed in Jan. 1943.

In September 1942 he was placed in charge of the Manhattan Engineer Project, established a month earlier, with the rank of Temporary Brigadier General. The Manhattan Engineer Project was the cover name for the atomic bomb project and, under his direction, the basic atomic bomb research was carried out, mainly at Columbia University and the University of Chicago. Project plants were established at the Clinton Laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, the Hanford Engineer Works near Pasco, Washington, and the secluded Los Alamos installation in New Mexico.

Atomic scientist said Groves built the bomb "to subdue the Soviets"!!

Dr. Joseph Rotblat was one of the scientists who worked on the atomic bomb at Los Alamos. He heard Groves say the the main reason for the bomb was to subdue the Soviets.... In 1944, Dr. Rotblat left Los Alamos in disgust:

" IN MARCH 1944 I experienced a disagreeable shock. At that time I was living with the Chadwicks in their house on the Mesa, before moving later to the "Big House;" the quarters for single scientists. General Leslie Groves, when visiting Los Alamos, frequently came to the Chadwicks for dinner and relaxed palaver. During one such conversation Groves said that, of course, the real purpose in making the bomb was to subdue the Soviets. (Whatever his exact words, his real meaning was clear.) Although I had no illusions about the Stalin regime—after all, it was his pact with Hitler that enabled the latter to invade Poland—I felt deeply the sense of betrayal of an ally. Remember, this was said at a time when thousands of Russians were dying every day on the Eastern Front, tying down the Germans and giving the Allies time to prepare for the landing on the continent of Europe. Until then I had thought that our work was to prevent a Nazi victory, and now I was told that the weapon we were preparing was intended for use against the people who were making extreme sacrifices for that very aim." (Dr. Rotblat, *Bulletin of Atomic Scientists*, p. 18).

Groves needed ROCKETS to deliver his weapons of mass destruction!!

Now that Groves had his super weapon, he needed a delivery method. His long range bombers could not reach all parts of the Soviet Union from Germany or Japan. Compared to rockets, bombers were slow and easy targets of anti-aircraft fire. Nazi Germany was in the process of developing rockets to deliver nukes to London and Moscow. The rocket factory was a notorious underground factory:

The Nazis realized very early that ROCKETS were the ideal delivery method for weapons of mass destruction. Due to allied bombing, they had to locate the rocket factory underground:

"The Allies discovered Dora and the Mittelwerk when United States Army troops entered the area on April 11, 1945. They unearthed a human disaster that had been planned by the Nazi regime, executed by the SS, and compounded by the economic collapse of the Third Reich in the final weeks of the war. The victorious army discovered corpses everywhere. Hundreds of victims had been dumped on the ground adjacent to the crematorium, a low building part way up a hill. In the days before liberation, thousands died of starvation and cholera. Bodies were fed into the ovens four at a time, day and night, but piled up faster than the ovens could consume them. At the nearby city of Nordhausen, the Nazis also created an associated camp to house even more slaves for the Mittelwerk. It, too, was littered with corpses. By one estimate, it held 6,000 bodies in varying stages of decomposition. During their two years of operation, 60,000 inmates passed through the Mittelwerk and the Dora, Nordhausen, and associated concentration camps; at least 25,000 died there." (Piskiewicz, Wernher von Braun: The Man who Sold the Moon, p. 49).

V2 rocket fired at Peenemünde in North-West Germany during WW II

Dr. Robert Goddard—the father of rocketry—died a very timely death!!

Dr. Robert Goddard, a Massachusetts professor who relocated to the wide open spaces of New Mexico in 1930, was the father of rocketry:

Dr. Robert Goddard (Oct. 5, 1882-Aug. 10, 1945).

Dr. Robert Goddard (Oct. 5, 1882-Aug. 10, 1945) was the inventor of the missile or rocket. He held over 200 patents on all phases of rocket design. He received some help from the Smithsonian Institution and the Guggenheim Foundation but most of his work was accomplished alone.

Until 1942, he received no help from the military. Then he was invited to leave his home in Roswell, New Mexico, and move to Annapolis, Maryland, to work for the Navy on rocket design. This was a very strange request because the Nazi rocketeers were sent to White Sands, New Mexico, to perfect Dr. Goddard's rockets.

When the captured German missiles were shipped from Peenemünde to Maryland, Dr. Goddard saw right away that all of them were his design!!

He was a pacifist at heart and envisioned rockets as a way of going to outer space. He would never give General Groves his patents to make rockets to deliver weapons of mass destruction.

Journey to the moon man Wernher von Braun was an SS Major!!

Wernher von Brain—the moonfaker— was a Major in the dreaded SS:

Click to enlarge

Heinrich Himmler, Reichführer SS visits Peenemünde. The man in the black SS uniform standing behind Himmler is Wernher von Braun. To the left of Himmler is Major General Walter Dornberger, commanding officer of the Peenemünde Rocket Facility.

Wernher von Braun (right front), despite having his arm in a cast, was confident and in good spirits after he and Gen. Walter Dornberger (left front, holding a cigar), and others surrendered to the United States Army on May 2, 1945.

Wernher von Braun (1912-1977) was a Sturmbannführer in the dreaded SS. This was the equivalent of Major in the U.S. Army. The rockets were all based on Dr. Goddard's design and produced by slave labor from the Dora-Mittelwerk concentration camp:

Group photo of Nazis at Peenemünde showing von Braun in the center and not wearing his SS uniform.

Top Nazis visit Peenemünde on May 26, 1943. Wernher von Braun is second from right and not wearing his SS uniform.

Von Braun arrived in the U.S. just after the death of Dr. Goddard!!

Von Braun was one of a group of 7 Nazi rocketeers who arrived in the U.S. on Sept. 18, 1945:

" The young man who stepped off the C54 cargo plane thought of himself as an immigrant who like many before him came to America to pursue his dream, build a new life, and leave behind crimes of the past. His arrival at Newcastle Army Air Base in Wilmington, Delaware, on September 18, 1945 was a second birth, and the official circumstance was a baptism that cleansed him of the original sin of his first life . He arrived not as a free man, however, but in the custody of the United States Army. He was one of a group of seven German rocket experts, the vanguard of a larger team that the Army recruited under Operation Overcast (later renamed Project Paperclip) to exploit for their technical expertise. He was the senior member of the group although not the oldest, and he had been its leader in Germany since the beginning, even before the Nazis came to power. His name was Wernher von Braun." (Piszkiewicz, Wernher von Braun: The Man who Sold the Moon, p. 5).

Rockefeller owned Collier's magazine launched the career of Wernher von Braun!!

In 1952, the Pentagon assigned Wernher von Braun a ghostwriter and he wrote several articles for Rockefeller owned Collier's magazine about space travel and journeys to the moon and Mars:

Moonfakers at work for Collier's magazine

Participants at the Collier's magazine symposium in New York City in early 1952 that led to the publication of a seminal eight-article series on space travel. Left to right, science writer and rocket expert Willy Ley; Dr. Fred L. Whipple, chairman, Department of Astronomy, Harvard University; von Braun; artists Chesley Bonestell, Rolf Klep, and Fred Freeman; and Cornelius Ryan, series editor as well as associate editor at Collier's.

Walt Disney disinfected Wernher von Braun!!

After WW II, ex-Nazis were not very popular in the U.S. Especially war criminals like Wernher von Braun. If he was to lead the Pentagon space program, he would need an image overhaul. This is where Walt Disney entered the picture. Disney had a snow white image and nobody would suspect him of working with SS Nazis rocketeers.

In 1954, Walt Disney—of Mickey Mouse fame—liked the Collier's magazine articles so much that he decided to hire von Braun as a "technical director " on "Tomorrowland" at his new theme park in California called Disneyland.

In 1955, Walt Disney made 3 TV movies with von Braun as technical director: Man in Space, First Men to the Moon, and Journey to Mars.

The TV movies looked so realistic that the millions who watched them were brainwashed into believing that they were real!!

The Pentagon desperately needed money to Walt Disney and Wernher von Braun.

Von Braun was technical director for Walt's "man to the moon" movie.

He also advised Disney on "Tomorrowland" at Disneyland in California.

Science FICTION changed into science FACT very quickly when the Pentagon needed funds to develop rockets to deliver weapons of mass destruction to Russia:

build ICBM's and rockets that would be able to deliver weapons of mass destruction to the Soviet Union.

If Walt Disney could simulate a moon landing in a studio (much cheaper), then the $20 billion dollars which Congress appropriated for the moon landing could be used to fight the Cold War with the Soviet Union instead!!

The space race and the Vietnam War would also DISTRACT the people while Rockefeller stole the Presidency without an election.

Wernher von Braun's "book" based on the Collier's magazine science fiction series.

2 astronauts land on the moon in the Wernher von Braun book. This science fiction book was actually more factual than NASA because it showed STARS in the background!!

Lunar lander from the 1953 science fiction book Conquest of the Moon by Wernher von Braun and Cornelius

NASA Lunar Module LM that put Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck on the moon in July 1969!!

Ryan.

Artist Chesley Bonestell and Wernher von Braun with a model of the moonship.

Van Allen Radiation Belt.

Deadly radiation belt beginning at about 400 miles and stretching out for thousands of miles were discovered by Explorer I in 1958. This cosmic radiation will literally FRY humans or animals who venture into its deadly path.

The Van Allen Radiation Belt

Here is a quote about just one of the dangers of space travel from scientist von Braun in his 1960 book: First Men to the Moon:

"Finally, there is the Van Allen Radiation Belt (page 69). Just a little over a year ago we didn't even know it existed. Explorer I, equipped to measure the intensity of the previously mentioned cosmic radiation, gave us the first indication that there was something completely unsuspected up there. Two more Explorers unveiled the fact that the earth is surrounded with two concentric, doughnut-shaped rings of "trapped radiation." Electrically charged particles—apparently mainly electrons—endlessly circle around and up and down the magnetic field lines which connect the magnetic North and South Poles like a grid of meridians. When a rocket flies through this belt the trapped electrons impinge on its skin like raindrops hitting an aircraft which is flying through the clouds. Very much in the same fashion as the impinging raindrops cause sound waves audible within the airplane cabin, the impinging electrons produce an electromagnetic radiation inside the cabin. Physicists use for this kind of radiation the German word bremstrahlung (slow-down radiation), but it is actually something quite similar to X-rays. It is this bremstrahlung that we have to watch in the Belt." (First Men to the Moon, p.19).

The Joke's on US . . . and the World!!

Wernher von Braun poses with some of the key staff of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency (ABMA) at Huntsville, Alabama. From left to right: Ernst Stuhlinger (seated); Maj. Gen. Holger N. Toftoy, commanding officer; Hermann Oberth (foreground), the father of German rocketry who worked for the Army Ballistic Missile Agency at Huntsville from 1955 to 1959; Wernher von Braun; and Eberhard Rees, deputy director, Development Operations Division.

Apollo 11 officials are in a festive mood after its successful liftoff on July 16, 1969. They are, from left to right: Charles W. Matthews, deputy associate administrator for Manned Space Flight; Wernher von Braun, director of Marshall Space Flight Center; George E. Mueller, associate administrator for Manned Space Flight; and Lt. Gen. Samuel C. Phillips, director of the Apollo Program.

President Kennedy visited von Braun just before his assassination!!

President Kennedy, Wernher von Braun, General McMorrow, and Vice-President Johnson at the Redstone Arsenal airstrip shortly after arriving from Washington for the September 1962 tour of Marshall Space Flight Center.

One of the last photos of President Kennedy taken before his assassination a week later on Nov. 22.

President Kennedy and NASA administrator James T. Webb at the launch Operations Complex during a tour of NASA in Nov. 1963. Did Kennedy decide to talk about von Braun and his fake moon landing? If he had, this was another reason for Rockefeller and the Pentagon to order his assassination!!

Wernher von Braun died a very timely death too!!

Like Dr. Goddard, von Braun died a very timely death on June 17, 1977. He was 65 years old but he was very fit and active all his life. After the "moon landings" he became a celebrity and was constantly in demand as a public speaker. At least 25 colleges gave him honorary degrees. The other astronots kept a low profile and avoided any kind of publicity but the fear was that Wernher might have "loose lips" and let the moon hoax slip:

Von Braun water-boarding on the Tennessee River near Guntersville, Alabama, in 1951. Next to flying von Braun's favorite pastime was water sports. For years he kept a houseboat as well as a speedboat for weekend relaxation.

Von Braun at the South Pole on Jan. 7, 1967. Von Braun was at the South Pole collecting meteorites which would later become MOON ROCKS!!

Von Braun looking fit and trim at 64. In 1976, he was working hard for Fairchild Industries, Germantown, Maryland. A year later he would be dead with cancer....Perhaps a timely vaccination???

Nelson Rockefeller liked to use vaccination to get rid of people including his own boss President Ford:

Moonfaker Neil Armstrong said "he never even dreamed of going to the moon"

Astronot Neil Armstrong—the supposedly first man on the moon—was totally opposite to Wernher von Braun in personality. Neil kept a very, very low profile and that probably saved his life. Here is a quote from an authorized biography of Neil Armstrong:

"When Neil started as a professor at the University of Cincinnati in 1970, news executives from the area's radio, TV, and print media were summoned to a downtown restaurant to hear an ultimatum: They were not to request interviews with the space hero who would be living in their midst, because none would be granted; they were to totally ignore his presence and not consider it legitimate news. Amazingly, the group agreed—with one exception. Lawrence H. Rogers, then head of Taft Broadcasting Corporation, owners of a chain of television and radio stations in the region, howled in protest. "The reason they gave was that Neil had no secretary and would be overwhelmed with requests. I raised my hand and said, 'That's the most preposterous thing I have ever heard.' I told them Armstrong was the most famous explorer since Christopher Columbus; it would have been criminal journalistically to not write about him and praise what he had accomplished." (Wagener, One Giant Leap." pp. 298-299).

Moonfaker Neil Armstrong (1930--). The supposedly first man to walk on the moon on July 20, 1969.

And another quote from moonstruck Neil Armstrong:

"As for walking on the moon, sometimes I wonder if that really happened. I can honestly say—and it's a great surprise to me that I have never had a dream about being on the moon. It's a great disappointment to me." (Wagener, One Giant Leap, p. 303).

---

Editor's Note

If Dr. Wernher von Braun had read the incomparable German Bible translation of Dr. Martin Luther, he would not have been surprised that space travel is impossible.... Space travel, evolution, life on other planets is sheer LUNACY. JEHOVAH created the universe about 6,000 years ago and this is the ONLY planet capable of sustaining life. The Bible says:

"The heaven, even the heavens, are the LORD's: but the earth hath he given to the children of men. (Psalm 115:16).

---

Vital links

[Dr. Joseph Rothblat and the atomic bomb \]](#)

Universities and Colleges that awarded honorary degrees to moonfaker Wernher von Braun!!

Bio. of Dr. Goddard from Clark University

Antartica Meteorites from the Moon!!

---

References

- Clary, David A. Rocket Man: Robert H. Goddard and the Birth of the Space Age. Hyperion Press, New York, 2003.
- Dewey, Anne Perkins. Robert Goddard Space Pioneer. Little, Brown & Co., New York, 1962.
- Groves, Leslie R. Now It Can Be Told: The Story of the Manhattan Project. Harper & Brothers, New York, 1962.
- Hawkins, Charles. How America Faked the Moon Landings. GTI Pub., New Port, MN. 2004.
- Henshall, Philip. Vengeance: Hitler's Nuclear Weapons Fact or Fiction. Sutton Publishing, Gloucestershire, England, 1995.
- Lawren, William. The General and the Bomb. Biography of General Leslie R. Groves. Dodd, Mead & Co., New York, 1988.
- Lehman, Milton. This High Man: The Life of Robert H. Goddard. Farrar, Straus & Co., New York, 1963.
- Michel Jean. Dora Concentration Camp. (Translated from the French by Jennifer Kidd). Holt, Rinehart and Winston, New York, 1975.
- Mader, Julius. Geheimnis von Huntsville. Dei wahre Karriere des Raketenbarons Wernher von Braun. (Secrets of Huntsville: the War Career of Baron Wernher von Braun), Berlin 1965. No English translation yet!!
- Norris, Robert S. Racing for the Bomb. Steerforth Press, Vermont, 2002.
- Piskiewicz, Dennis. Wernher von Braun: the Man Who Sold the Moon. Preager Press, Westport, Connecticut, 1998.
- Piskiewicz, Dennis. The Nazi Rocketeers. Dreams of Space and Crimes of War, Westport, Connecticut, 1998.
- Sellier, André. A History of the Dora Camp. Ivan R. Dee. Chicago, 2003.
- Stuhlinger, Ernst, Wernher von Braun. An Illustrated Memoir. Krieger Publishing Co., Malabar, Florida, 1994.
- Von Braun, Wernher, Conquest of the Moon. Edited by Cornelius Ryan. Viking Press, New York, 1953.

Von Braun, Wernher. First Men to the Moon. Holt, Rinehart and Winston. New York, 1958,1959,1960.

Wagener, Leon, One Giant Leap: Neil Armstrong's Stellar American Journey. Tom Doherty Assoc., LLC. New York, 2004.

---

Back to Main Menu